LEND ME YOUR EARS:

'Orfeo' To Be Presented In Old Vicenza Theater

VICENZA'S TEATRO OLIMPICO, the only theater in all Italy that has survived from the days of the Renaissance, will be the scene of a unique event this week-end. On its ancient stage, with its piazza and streets radiating from it in perfect perspective, will be enacted the opera, "Orfeo," by the Renaissance composer, Claudio Monteverdi, as given by La Scala of Milan.

This will be one of the rare occasions when the actual theater and the work presented in it are nearly contemporaneous. The Teatro Olimpico, the last masterpiece of Vicenza's great architect Andrea Palladio, was completed in 1580 — and Monteverdi's "Orfeo" had its first performance in 1607. The performances, staged by Riccardo Bacchelli and under the direction of Antonino Votto, are set for tomorrow and Sunday nights at 9.

Art Notes

An exhibit of the witty, observant sculpture of Milton Hebard opens this afternoon at 6 at the Schneider Gallery. The work of Hebard, who is a New Yorker and a fellow of the American Academy, has been described by Isamu Noguchi as "keyed to the quick life about us," and his subjects include jitterbugs, swing sessions, Trastevere girls and a couple scooting through Rome on a Vespa (see cut) ... the Odyssey. Gallery on Via Liguria presents at 6 this afternoon a show by the Trieste artist Romeo Daneo — "shrewd and candid painting, as humorous as an animated cartoon" is the way Fortunato Bionzi describes his work ... an exhibition of Brazilian landscape architecture by Roberto Burle Marx of Sao Paulo has just been put on view at the National Gallery of Modern Art, under the sponsorship of Brazilian Ambassador Adolpho Cardoso De Alencastro Guimaraes.

Farewell Dinner

Lt. Gen. Patrick W. Timberlake, USAF, and Mrs. Timberlake will be guests of honor at a farewell dinner to be given tonight at Rome's Casa dell'Aviatore by Lt. Gen. Fernando Raffaelli and Mrs. Raffaelli. The American air general will return the States shortly to retire in the Los Angeles area after two years as commander of NATO's Allied Air Forces Southern Europe. The guests will include U.S. Ambassador and Mrs. James C. Fry, Lt. Gen. and Mrs. Mario Pezzullo, Lt. Gen. and Mrs. Sergio Lalatta, Lt. Gen. and Mrs. Carlo Uboldi, Lt. Gen. and Mrs. Luigi Bianchi, Col. and Mrs. Glynne Jones, and Col. and Mrs. Marion J. Akers.

At a ceremony at the Campidoglio yesterday morning Rome's Mayor Umberto Tupini presented Nathan Phillips, mayor of Toronto, a miniature Roman column, as a gesture of good will between the two cities ... friends of American concert pianist Vera Franceschi, who is well known in Rome, will be interested to learn that she has announced her engagement in New York to Italian-born tenor Daniele Barioni of the Metropolitan Opera. Miss Franceschi recently obtained a divorce from William Jerome Daly Jr., an attorney whom she married in Rome in 1950 ... Len Allen, TV news editor of NBC, is in Rome on a quick swing around the European bureaus. He was guest of honor Wednesday night at a buffet supper hosted by his sister and brother-in-law, Irma and Marty Shepard of TWA ... yesterday afternoon caused by the appearance of Esther Williams. When she came out of the Excelsior in a wide-skirted yellow cotton dress and climbed into a "carrozza," she was instantly surrounded by a squad of photographers who had been lurking for more than three hours. Passersby quickly piled up, as did the horn-bling traffic, and in under a minute a full scale traffic jam stretched as far as Porta Pinciana. Eventually the crowd stood aside and allowed the actress to drive off with a wave to everyone, to the Villa Borghese ... Harry Dalggaard, Pan American sales director for Italy, will leave Rome July 1 to take up a new post in the airline's New York office.

The Smart Set knickerbocker

By Cholly

BETWEEN YOU, ME, THE LAMPPOST (and 20,000,000 readers): Society will be shocked to hear that the George F. Bakers Jr. have separated. The former Frances

Munn, daughter of Charles Munn,

Mr Palm Beach himself, and the scion of the great banking family agreed to disagree a couple of weeks ago, Frances has moved over to stay with her cousin, Mrs Francis Kellogg. Lynn Goetel, ex of Bobby Goetel, denies the rumors that she's about to remarry. "I'm not interested roman-tically in any one," she says.

Sorry we missed Charles and Jane Engelhard's party in honor of their daughter Anne Francis. The Knickerbocker dance, which was held at "Crag-wood," the Engelhard estate at Far

Hills, N.J., was attended by society everywhere. The Henry Fords flew in from Detroit, the Charles Sui-dam Cuttings gave a pre-dance dinner, the Duke and Duchess Canevaro di Zoagli came especially from Baltimore, and anyone who wasn't at the Whitney party in Old Westbury or at the Granville Baker

Boy's Club dance also in Longuyland was a guest of the Platinum

King and his elegant wife.

FRANKLY WE WISH we could have divided ourself in several pieces to be everywhere at once.

Sonny and Eleanor Whitney gave their annual dance in conjunction with the Sam Pecks (she's Sonny's sister). It was held at the "Studio," which is a small palace in between the Whitney's and the Pecks properties. Some sixty select perple attended.

Mrs William Grace tossed a big dance in honor of her granddaughter, Elise Grace Bladen, at

"The Crossroads," her old Westbury estate... Umberto Pini di San Miniato, the dual beau of Bobo Rockefeller, is decorating the Laddie Sanford for chateau such home, in Venetian style, no less.

HORACE DODGE missed the boat when Gregg left for Europe the other day. The loss of a recently fractured leg obliges the motor millionaire to remain in this country somewhat longer. "It'll be just the four of us on this trip," explained the former Gregg Sherwood, as she pointed to her recently widowed mother, her 3-year-old son, Johnny, and glanced at her own maternity clothes... The Dodges expect their second heir in December.

Wonder if future generations will be claiming boastfully — "My ancestors came over on the replica of the Mayflower!"... Tyrone Power insists he's only buying those Paris luncheons for chanteuse Juliette

Greco because she's such a gourmet. That's one way of putting it.

MERLE OBERON paused long enough in New York to pick up a trousseau from designer Marusa before pausing to England to meet

Bruno Pagliai whom she'll wed there before the end of the month.

Princess Maria Pia of Savoy, daughter of ex-King Umberto of Italy, was finally cornered at Maxim's in Paris, by a harassed freight executive who had been trying to locate her in three countries with a shipment of 12 dozen brassieres she had ordered.

David "Sonny" Werblin the MCA

Veep has been named to the board of directors of Monmouth Racetrack... Alice Simms describes alimony as "going pains."

TSK! TSK! DEPT! First thing

Anna Sosenko did after taking over the management of England's piano playing peer, Lord Foley, was to break up his romance with Myra Baird, pretty local singer.

"Just not important enough" decreed Hildegard's former Svengail.
