Mansfield Charges 'Shocking Disarray'

ment at which it was launched."
He blamed the U-2 flight for most of the nation's diplomatic difficulties which have followed. Mansfield said, "This particular flight owes its origin more to bureaucratic inertia, lack of coordination and control and insensitivity to its potential cost than it does to any conscious decision of political responsibility."
The assistant Senate Democratic leader said, "The shocking disarray of departments, agencies and sub-agencies through which this nation tries to conduct foreign relations and defense at best borders on a national disgrace and, at worst, courts national disaster."

'Most Pressing Need'

The government's "most pressing need," Mansfield said, is "a more effective, more responsible and responsive system of administration of its foreign relations and its defense."

Among other things he called for an end to personal diplomacy by heads of state, such as the good will tours by President Eisenhower and Nixon.

"In the wake of the collapse of the summit we need to get straight, once and for all, that personal magnetism and personal contacts of heads of states are not a substitute for policies continually attuned to the ever-changing realities of the world," he said.

Organization (Medico) of New York is sending a complete hospital laboratory. Schweitzer is an honorary patron of the organization. The International Latex Corp. of Dover, Del., is sending a large quantity of medical supplies.

Saturday Bobby and his father will leave the States on an Air France C-119 for Evreux, AFB, France, to clear the mercy mission through customs. Then they'll go off for Schweitzer hospital near Leopoldville, Belgian Congo.

Italy 2nd, U. S. 3rd In Venezuela Colony

CARACAS, June 23 (AP) — Italians form the second largest foreign colony in Venezuela and United States citizens the third, the Ministry of Interior reports. Venezuela's population of about seven million includes 616,838 foreigners. Spaniards head the list with 188,543. There are 174,244 Italians, 51,547 U.S. citizens and 47,075 Portuguese.

17 Ex-Deputies Missing In Turkey

ANKARA, June 23 (AP) — Turkey's military government announced that 17 former deputies of the Democrat Party of ousted Premier Adnan Menderes are missing.

A spokesman said last night a search still is on for the deputies, some of whom are believed to have fled the country.

All other Democrat parliamentary deputies now are prisoners with Menderes on the Sea of Marmara island of Yasslada.

Chancellery Entry Damaged By Bomb

PARIS, June 23 (AP) — A plastic bomb blew up the main entry of the Chancellery of the Legion of Honor, a couple of blocks from the National Assembly, early today.

The force of the explosion shattered windows of apartments in the quarter and damaged six automobiles parked nearby. There were no victims. Police are investigating.

Ike Names Laos Envoy

HONOLULU, June 23 (AP) — President Eisenhower has named career diplomat Winthrop G. Brown, now embassy minister in India, to be the new U.S. Ambassador to Laos.

Eichmann Compromise

such acts as the violation of its territory by Eichmann's seizure might endanger international peace and requesting "adequate reparation" from Israel.

Israeli Foreign Minister Mrs. Golda Meir asked at the close of yesterday's meeting precisely what "adequate reparation" meant. Lodge told the council today Washington.

Red China

that the situation in the world has undergone many changes since the time of communism's founders.

But the paper, quoting liberally from the writings of Chinese Party Chairman Mao Tse-tung, stressed "it is impossible to hope that imperialists could be persuaded to be good natured or repent."

Significantly, there was unusually little coverage of Khrushchev's Rumanian visit in the Chinese daily press. The New China News Agency's daily press review mentioned to newspaper carrying excerpts of Khrushchev's speeches, which have caused a stir in the Soviet Union, Poland and other European Communist states.

In contrast, all newspaper headlines in Peking today were devoted to an address at the Rumanian Congress by Communist Chinese representative Peng Chen calling for the Communist allies to strengthen their anti-imperialist front. Peng sidestepped any direct conflict with Khrushchev, however.

Meanwhile, the Peking regime was spouting a rabid hate-America campaign launched throughout the nation by all communication media Tuesday.

Even stage plays and poetry and song contests were being devoted to the same theme: that President Eisenhower was "the god of plague" preparing the United States for war.

ton's understanding of the term.

"The United States," he said, "considers that adequate reparation will have been made in the expression of views in the Security Council, taken together with the statement of the distinguished Foreign Minister of Israel in making apology. We think that when we adopt the resolution, adequate reparation will have been made and the incident will have been closed. Normal relations between the two countries can then proceed."

Mrs. Meir told the Council yesterday:

"I wish to repeat in all solemnity before this Council my government's regret at any infringement of the law of the Argentine which may have been committed by an Israeli national."

Meanwhile Argentina has agreed to extradite former concentration camp doctor Josef Mengele to West Germany, the Foreign Ministry reported today in Bonn.

Germany asked Argentina to extradite Mengele last January.

Argentina has now replied that it is prepared to extradite the notorious former Auschwitz concentration camp doctor "as soon as they find him," a ministry spokesman said.

Mengele was responsible for sorting out those Auschwitz inmates to die and those to do hard labor. The warrant for his arrest also charges him with personally giving "many" victims injection of gasoline, phenol and air.

U.S. Graves Dedicated In Netherlands

MARGRATEN CEMETERY, The Netherlands, July 7 (AP)—Queen Juliana of The Netherlands today attended the dedication ceremony of Margraten cemetery where 8,301 American dead of World War II are buried and the names of another 1,722 missing are engraved on the walls of a court of honor.

"This is a form of appeasement that could destroy us. It would be the worst folly we could commit to allow ourselves to be lulled without extreme effort and sacrifice on our part."

During the ceremony bouquets were laid by children from neighboring villages.

Earlier Ambassador Philip Young welcomed the guests, including Premier Jan de Quay and Defense Minister Simon Visser.

Frogmen Seek Crewmen's Bodies In Blimp Crash

BARNEGAT LIGHT, N.J., July 7 (UPI) — Frogmen were sped today to the wreckage of the giant Navy blimp ZPG-3W in a desperate effort to retrieve bodies of 17 men presumed dead in its gondola before heavy seas break up the crashed airship's remains.

The cause of ZPG-3W's crash yesterday during a mercy mission off the N.J. coast remained a mystery.

Navy authorities feared the gondola might break up within hours and the bodies of the trapped men might be claimed forever by the sea, along with clues to what brought them to disaster.

The Reliance class airship collapsed and went down Wednesday 15 miles off the Jersey coast, south of Barnegat Light on Long Beach Island. One man who escaped from the wreckage and was picked up died. There were three known survivors. Eight officers and 13 enlisted men had been aboard.

The eyewitness account of one of the survivors, aviation electrician Antonio Contreras was quoted to back up a Navy statement that there was no explosion.

"We were cruising at about 300 feet," Contreras said. "I heard a loud noise, but it was not an explosion. We hit the water within seconds at about a 45-degree nose down angle. No ditching alarm was sounded. I exited through an aft door."
