AF Sgt. Honored For Practicing 'Educational' Medicine He Preaches

(Special to the Daily American)

WHEELUS AFB, Libya, April 28 — For the past three years Sgt. Richard F. Weber has been successfully selling higher education to Wheelus military personnel and at the same time demonstrating his personal confidence in the medicine he has been prescribing for others.

Last week Col. Earl P. Maxwell, deputy commander for services, presented Weber with the Certificate of Distinguished Educational Achievement, the highest educational honor accorded by USAF. Weber accrued 65 education points through participation in the Air Force Off-Duty Program, exceeding the 60 points required for the certificate.

One education point represents one semester hour of resident university work carried to satisfactory completion.

NGOIC and chief education counselor at Wheelus for the past three years, Weber also earned the USAF Certificate of Conspicuous Educational Achievement, which was awarded him last November.

When Weber entered the Air Force in December 1950, he had completed only the 10th grade of study. Today, through the use of the education facilities offered by the Air Force, he can claim over three years of college credit.

Upon departure from Wheelus in August, he will be within six credit hours, or two courses, of attaining his BA degree from the University of Maryland. He is presently taking three courses carrying value of nine credit hours.

According to Air Force education policies, a military student within six months academic work towards a degree may apply for Operation Bootstrap TDY — resident study at a university. Weber plans to apply for temporary duty at a college when he returns to the U.S.

3 Forrestal Sailors Save Injured Frenchman

(Special to the Daily American)

CANNES, France, April 28 — Three American sailors from the carrier Forrestal, now anchored here, risked their own lives in a dramatic rescue of an injured Frenchman.

It was revealed today how the three carrier men took turns at holding the man's head clear of the water. While a fourth crewed the evening rescue by throwing a piece of rope and hauling the struggling Frenchman back to the safety of the seawall from which he fell.

The unidentified Frenchman accidentally fell into the sea about five feet from Navy Shore Patrolman Harley Joe Beinkamp, ship's pipefitter third class. He called for help as he tore off his hat and shore patrol belt and plunged in to aid the man.

Two other shore patrolmen stationed along the seawall — James

L. Framelli and D. R. Bennett, both aviation metalsmiths third class — dived to join the rescue too.

G. Morrison, interior communications man, ran up with the live-saving rope from a nearby yacht. He threw it to Bennett who was still with the injured man. Framelli and Beinkamp clambered back onto the seawall to haul the two to safety.

The Frenchman suffered slight concussion and an injured leg. He was taken to a hospital while French onlookers gave cognac to the three dripping shore patrolmen — before they were relieved of duty and returned to the ship.

Libya, U.S. Sign Agreement For Shore Road

(Special to the Daily American)

WHEELUS AFB, Libya, April 28 — A final agreement opening the way for construction of the new Mediterranean shore road between Tripoli and Wheelus Air Base was signed last week at ceremonies in the office of His Excellency Abdul Masid Koobar, prime minister of the United Kingdom of Libya.

The agreement, prepared in both Arabic and English, was signed by Minister Koobar on behalf of Libya, and by J. Wesley Jones, American ambassador, on behalf of the U.S.

To be known as the Hansheer Road, the new thoroughfare will begin at the Federal Compound in Tripoli, follow the Mediterranean shore for a distance of three-and-a-half miles, and end in the area of Wheelus Air Base where the 7272d USAF Hospital is located. Here, a new main gate house, and traffic approaches have been under construction for some time.

It will have two separated lanes for motor traffic, and a third lane for non-motor vehicular traffic. It will be a public road, and by terms of the agreement, the U.S. government will provide $132,000 for its construction. Chief benefit to Wheelus will be a new access route which will by-pass the central Suk el-Giuma area.

Bitter Words Fly In Utah Desert As Walking Britons Trudge To NY

DELL, Utah, April 28 (UPI) — Bitter words flew in the Western Utah desert today as two parties of Britons trudged on their 3,022 mile way between San Francisco and New York.

Dr. Barbara Moore called two British Army sergeants "scoundrels" and said they had accepted "many rides" in their cross-country walk.

"I shall expose them," she added. "They are a bunch of scoundrels. They stole my program."

Sgt. Roy Rogers, 39, escort driver for Flight Sgt. Patrick Moloney and Staff Sgt. Mervyn Evans of Wales, claimed Dr. Moore disqualify herself for a walking record by "jogtrotting" near Wells, Nev.

Dr. Moore said that after completing her crossing of America she planned to go to Australia for another walking tour at the invitation of the Australian government.

The soldiers said they expect to complete the trip in 70 days, cutting nine days from the long-standing present record. They scoffed at a report by Dr. Moore she would complete the journey in 59 days.

Dr. Moore left San Francisco a day behind the sergeants but overtook them at Wendover, Utah, and gradually lengthened her lead today.

Dead Mother's Baby Dies In Calif.

TORRANCE, Calif., April 28 (AP) — Doctors lost a desperate struggle yesterday to keep alive an infant born after the mother died of a bullet wound in the forehead.

Mrs. Carole Tylor, 24, died at 2:40 a.m. yesterday and her husband, Marvin, 26, was booked on suspicion of murder.

The couple's son was delivered by caesarean section at 3:10 a.m. Tuesday but died after 23 hours and 55 minutes of life. Physicians at Harbor General Hospital said a lack of oxygen between the time of the mother's death and the birth undoubtedly was a contributing factor in the baby's death.
