LEND ME YOUR EARS:

Ainsworth To Speak On Economic Trends

THE AMERICAN CHAMBER OF COMMERCE for Italy will hold its first luncheon of 1962 at the Hotel Flora at 1 p.m. Jan. 31. H. G. Ainsworth, U.S. Embassy counselor for economic affairs, will discuss current economic developments. Reservations or further information may be obtained by telephoning the C of C office at 470.341. . . . Rome journalist Giorgio Gabbi, 26, will be among 12 journalists from five continents who have been invited to the U.S. from March 4 to April 30 to get a "reporter's view" of the country. The visits are being sponsored by the U.S. Junior Chamber of Commerce in a program to improve the foreign image of the U.S. The visitors will work for U.S. newspapers and while living with Jaycee families . . . Harvey Matofsky, director of advertising and publicity for Charles H. Schneer Productions, advises from London that he is the proud father of a daughter, Suzanne Gail, born Dec. 29 . . . Mr and Mrs Ronald Stieglitz of Hertz entertained at cocktails last night in their Parioli apartment . . . Princesses Sophia and Irene of Greece transited through Rome en route to Paris. After three days in the French capital, the two princesses are scheduled to leave for Portugal where they will be guests of the Spanish pretender Don Juan. Don Juan's son, Prince Juan Carlos, and Princess Sophia will be married in Athens May 14 . . . a performance of Verdi's "Requiem Mass," conducted by Italian maestro Carlo Maria Giulini, won high praise from London critics yesterday. Giulini conducted the Philharmonic Chorus and Orchestra in London's Festival Hall with an international cast that included Elinor Ross of the United States, Rita Gorr of Belgium, Nicolai Gedda of Sweden and the Bulgarian singer Nicolai Ghaurov, principal bass at La Scala.

Happy Birthday. . .

. . . today to Mrs Lillian Reilly-Persichetti, Notre Dame faculty . . . to Joaquin E. Salazar, Dominican Republic ambassador to Italy . . . to Marchese Sergio Lalatta . . . to newsman Enrico Altavilla . . . to violinist Pina Carmirelli . . . and to George F. McDonnell, former Lt. Col. now with the S4 section, 8th Logistical Command, Leghorn.

Cinema Scene

The word from France is that producer Raoul Levy has acquired all the film rights to the works of Marcel Proust. The first Proust film under consideration would be "Un Amore di Swann," apparently taken from "Swan's Way," first part of "Remembrance of Things Past." . . . Italy's Luchino Visconti is being considered as director—and this columnist can think of no better choice. "Lolita" author Vladimir Nobokov may do some of the work on the screen play. Many American film companies are reported disappointed that the French hold all the rights to Proust's monumental work . . . the Viscontis, Antonionis and Fellinis of tomorrow may be interested in a competition sponsored by Milan's National Film Center for Youth in collaboration with the S. Fedele Cultural Center. The competition — "The Second National Contest of the Tenth Muse" — is open to film makers under 18 years. The contest ends April 30, and consists of eight millimeter films no longer than ten minutes on the theme "Work That Makes the Life of Your City." The various prizes will include a "Tenth Muse" statuette in silver on an onyx pedestal . . . Sophia Loren said in New York she will attend the marriage of her younger sister to Romano Mussolini in Rome March 3 despite notice the Italian government intends to try her for bigamy if she returns. Miss Loren was accompanied to New York by her producer-husband Carlo Ponti, who also faces trial for bigamy. The Italian government refused to recognize Ponti's 1957 Mexican divorce from his first wife. Miss Loren said: "I love my husband and I want to have a normal married life. I'd like to have children, but this can't happen yet with this thing hanging over our heads." . . . director Nicholas Ray and a first unit crew will fly from Madrid to Thailand in March to film action scenes for the forthcoming Samuel Bronston production "55 Days at Peking." The epic is a recreation of the Boxer Uprising of 1900 which will be filmed principally in Spain this year.

The Once Over

A funeral turned into a happy banquet Saturday in the Italian town of Potenza. . . . Weeping relatives were gathered around the body of the "late" 87-year-old Francesco Vitelli when he suddenly got up and said: "What do we have today for lunch." Vitelli had been pronounced dead only a few minutes before by the local doctor. The same doctor pronounced him alive and everybody sat down to a good meal . . . a handsome English bachelor who was left $140,000 on condition he did not marry has come to Italy to dodge a shower of marriage proposals. Capt. Douglas Nayler of West Bromwich inherited the money from Miss Eleanor Plumpton because he was the living image" of a man to whom she had been engaged 70 years ago. As soon as the will was published Nayler was besieged with marriage proposals. He resigned his post as adjutant of a Birmingham Territorial unit after 18 years and left for a long vacation in Florence. He said before he left: "I can't stand the embarrassment of these proposals any longer" . . . the Italian town of Borgo San Forenzo is going to put up a new bronze statue to the memory of Fido, the faithful dog. Teenage vandals had destroyed an earlier statue on New Year's Day. Fido was the dog who went to the village square to meet his master's bus every evening when the man came home from work. One day the man was killed in an air raid, but the dog kept meeting the bus all the same until his death in 1957.

20 YEARS AFTER—1st Sgt. Julius C. Ellis, of SETAF headquarters, Verona, discusses old times with 1st Sgt. D. S. McDewell, 212th MP Co., Camp Darby. McDewell, Ellis' recruit-drill corporal in 1940, accidentally met Ellis after the long lapse of years when he went into his office for information. Sgt. McDewell was visiting Verona for a meeting of the NCO Advisory Council. (U.S. Army photo)

The Muses

An exhibit of works by Dutch-born Koo Stroo opens tomorrow at the George Lester Gallery, 59-A Via Mario de' Fiori. Stroo studied architecture in Amsterdam, but in 1945 decided to dedicate himself entirely to painting. He left Holland in 1951 to settle in Morocco where he remained until 1956, when he came to Rome. He has had one-man shows in Rome at the Trastevere Gallery in 1960 and the International University Residence in 1961. Stroo says about his work: ". . . Gradually I have been giving more and more importance to the material and its use, my main interest being the technique. Composition and form come later. Last in importance is the subject matter. I don't mean to say that I reject the subject; it has its part to play. The finished painting certainly represents reality, it reflects the essence of the natural world around me, whether its first impulse springs from a tree, a face, a cloud, a molecule, a star, a crystal . . . The painting shows reality as I perceive it, but I like to leave people free to see their own reality in it, and that's why I don't give titles to my recent works" . . . Eva Carocci Vedres, who was born in Florence of Hungarian parents, has a personal show which opens at 6 p.m. tomorrow at Irene Brin and Gasparo Del Corso's Obelisco Gallery, 146 Via Sistina. The artist, whose father was a noted sculptor, now lives in Rome . . . an exhibition of the works of Vittorio Casetti is being held through Jan. 31 at the La Barcaccia Gallery, 9 Piazza di Spagna . . . tonight the Il Segno Gallery at 4 Via Capo le Case opens a one man show of works by Claudio Cintoli. The show will last through Feb. 10.

Military Note

Maj. Leo Mancioppi of the SETAF Signal Division has been promoted to the rank of lieutenant colonel.

The new Col. Mancioppi is a 1952 graduate of the Engineer School at Turin and has also attended the Signal and Advanced Infantry School at Cecchignola, Rome.

Before his assignment at SETAF he served as aide to the director of communications at Nucleo Intendenza Nord Est (North East Superintendence Section).

He and his wife, Jerta, and their four children, live in Verona.

If you have any news for "Lend Me Your Ears" about your or your friend's parties, social gatherings, arrivals, departures, engagements, marriages, etc., please telephone Rome: 587.116 between 9 a.m. and 1 p.m. or write to 8 Via Dandolo, Rome, Italy. Information about birthday should be written in or phoned in at least three days in advance.

Chevalier Rescued At Plaque Rites For 'Mistinguette'

PARIS, Jan. 22 (UPI) — Police had to rescue 73-year old Maurice Chevalier yesterday from hundreds of fans who engulfed him at a ceremony unveiling a plaque to the memory of world-famed French music hall singer "Mistinguette."

The stars of the Folies Bergères, the Casino de Paris and other vaudeville shows were among the huge crowd which turned out for the mid-morning ceremony. The plaque was fixed to the wall of the house where "Miss" lived for 50 years, a stone's throw from the opera in the heart of Paris.

Grey-haired Chevalier was the star attraction because for 40 years Mistinguette was his intimate friend. She died in 1956, aged "about 80."

Piper Laurie Weds N.Y. Newsman

LONG BEACH, Calif., Jan. 22 (UPI) — Actress Piper Laurie yesterday married New York reporter Joseph Morgenstern in a ceremony at the star's home.

Miss Laurie, a candidate for an Academy Award nomination for the film "The Hustler," met Morgenstern when he went to interview her. It was the first marriage for each. Both are 29.

The actress's sister, Mrs Sherye Wade, was matron of honor.

The marriage was performed by Rabbi Abraham Maron. The couple plans a honeymoon in Morocco.

Deadlock Threatens U.S. Bid To Punish Cuba

peared to be:

(1) The United States and 10 other nations — largely Central American and Caribbean — seek stern punishment, including a rupture of diplomatic and trade relations with Havana.

(2) A non-punishment bloc made up of Brazil, Mexico, Bolivia, Ecuador and Haiti.

(3) Argentina, Uruguay, Venezuela and Chile, oppose a diplomatic or economic break, but favor a declaration of condemnation.

Argentine spokesmen argue that sanctions against Cuba are impractical and could have little hope of forcing Cuba out of the Communist bloc. They contend that even if more than two-thirds of the 20 nations sitting in judgment on Cuba voted for sanctions, there remains large countries such as Mexico and Brazil that would not go along.

Brazil's formula would seek to cure the Cuban situation by permitting Havana to neutralize itself. Brazilians contend a sanitary cordon around Cuba could prevent Communist infiltration into the rest of the Americas while American nations kept their hands off the Cuban internal situation.

BOLIVIAN RALLY

LA PAZ, Jan. 23 (UPI)—An estimated 20,000 Bolivians at a mass rally today called on the government to break relations with Cuba.

The rally, sponsored by the Defense Front for Liberty, and civic and Catholic Church institutions, carried out a "March of Silence" on the Presidential Palace where demonstrators shouted their demands.

COMMUNIST RIOT

CARACAS, Jan. 23 (UPI) — New Communist-inspired violence flared in downtown Caracas today when striking transport workers burning two buses. There were no casualties. Firemen promptly extinguished the flames.

Troops armed with tommyguns and bayoneted rifles stood guard at the U.S. Embassy, bombed yesterday during leftist disorders in which at least three persons were killed.

Ike Warns

we should prevent such people from spreading the truth about Communist imperialism," the ex-President said.

Earlier Adm. Arleigh A. Burke told the Senate Subcommittee that military officers have a proper and moral right to speak out against Communism as long as they avoid "purely partisan politics" and respect civilian control.

As for partisan politics, the retired Chief of Naval Operations declared:

"That area, as every military man I know would agree, is off limits to the man in uniform."

Burke, who had his own troubles with Pentagon censorship, said military personnel must be indoctrinated with patriotism. "It must not be a blind patriotism, but a patriotism based upon deep and broad understanding of the values of our society," he said.

Robert A. Lovett, a Secretary of Defense in the Truman administration, submitted a memorandum to Stennis saying that a military officer should keep public speeches to a minimum and confine them to matters of their military responsibility.

"I cannot escape the feeling that, as a government, we tend to talk too much," Lovett said. "To be sure, we are an open society, but we give the impression of being unbuttoned."

statement demanding Stalin's heirs show how Stalin killed her husband and officially changed his Soviet reputation from hero to traitor. She got no reply from Moscow.

But only death has silenced the woman who captivated a young Russian revolutionist named Leon Bronstein 60 years ago in Paris.

Trotsky — 22 years old and still using his real name of Bronstein— arrived in Paris to earn some money for the revolutionary cause in the winter of 1902-03. Young Trotsky was a married man with two children, but Natalia later said she fell in love with him and arranged to have Trotsky stay in the same rooming house as herself. She persuaded Trotsky to investigate the joys of Toulouse-Lautrec's turn-of-the-century Paris.

Trotsky dropped his first wife. (She and her two daughters disappeared later in Russia) and Natalia took the name of Trotsky. She joined his poverty-streaked exile's life.

Natalia remained at her husband's side through the halycon days—when Trotsky organized the Red Army, became Lenin's junior partner and finally in the 1920's when he lost the battle with Stalin for Lenin's mantle. She shared his life in Siberian exile and in banishment to Turkey, Norway and Mexico.

Verwoerd

of the Transkei is one of the most important holiday and tourist areas in South Africa. Main national railways and roads run through the Transkei from the Cape Province to Natal.

Dr. Verwoerd said the new Transkei Parliament would presumably have control over agriculture, education and welfare services, lands, roads, local affairs. External affairs, defense and certain aspects of the administration of justice would presumably remain the responsibility of the central government.

Space Shot

who poured into the area last week to cover the manned orbital flight were more interested in the Mercury "evaluation" that was expected to produce a new target date for Glenn's 81,000-mile flight through space.

The problem centered in the capsule's environmental control system —the delicate mechanism which will force a vital supply of oxygen into Glenn's cabin and spacesuit during the voyage of nearly five hours.

Technicians ripped into the system yesterday and replaced a faulty oxygen demand regulator and a hose. NASA officials said tests showed there was a possibility these instruments could have caused an "excessive use of oxygen" should Glenn's cabin suddenly lose air pressure in space.

OAS Foes Claim Kidnaping

Students in the pre-academy classes are known for their extreme rightist views, and many of them support the French Algeria cause.

The anti-OAS kidnapping—if confirmed—followed the short-lived OAS grab of Gaullist Deputy Paul Mainguy from his home in Paris' southern outskirts yesterday. Police freed Mainguy and arrested his abductors.

NEW VIOLENCE

ALGIERS, Jan. 23 (AP)—A shortage of manpower today delayed application of the government's new security controls while terrorists struck Algeria's major cities with sub-machinegun and pistol attacks.

At least eight persons died and 22 were wounded as the sun went down on another day of bloodshed and violence.

In Algiers, there was no sign of the security apparatus promised by authorities for protection against terrorism.

On the contrary, fewer troops and roadblocks than usual were seen in the city where European terrorists machine-gunned a truck-load of Moslem workers and a Moorish cafe.

It was believed that the announcement of special control measures by civil authorities last night caught the French Army command by surprise. Army sources said it was difficult to mobilize additional troops for the cities at a time when elements equivalent to two divisions were to leave the country on the order of French President Charles de Gaulle.

Wife's Journey

to marry Rena, his childhood sweetheart.

Three months later he returned alone to the United States and both he and his bride began planning for the day she could come and join him. While Lovato worked and saved money here, Rena, in Italy, was putting in 12 hours a day in a leather factory.

Finally the couple had enough money for boat fare and a small apartment. The wife was to have sailed yesterday and arrive in the United States Feb. 1.

But when she heard of her husband's accident, she canceled her ship reservation and left Saturday by plane.

Weak from an attack of air sickness, she rushed straight to the hospital to sit with him and hold his hand. Several times the tearful wife was heard to whisper, "It's all in God's hands."

Italy Seeks

Ministry said that he had asked political asylum. But Italian officials have indicated they are not convinced.

Questions

Several questions remain open as authorities become silent.

First reports Saturday said Italian radar picked up a flight of planes, possibly eight, and that the Mig-19 crashed after leaving the flight. Since Saturday, official statements have not mentioned more than one plane.

Originally, the pilot was identified as Milos or Miloch Podgoros. Several Italian newspapers said he gave that name at the hospital. Other dailies said the name was found on an envelope in his pocket. The Defense Ministry statement, last night, said his identity as Solakov was established on the "basis of identity documents found in his personal clothing."

Italy Medics Treat Bulgarian Pilot

the lengthy bone-setting procedure, saying they were "thrown out like dogs" by Italian authorities.

Military Attaché Col. Ivan Ivanoff said in anger he and Third Secretary Cristo Tenev would protest officially back at the Bulgarian Consulate in Rome because they were not allowed to see Solakov or view his wrecked plane.

The Italian military here said that, while the diplomats were kept from the tightly guarded hospital and crash scene, they had to leave this southeastern seaport city simply because their special three-day permits expired.

A journalist on a local Italian newspaper said early today one of three peasants who helped Solakov to the hospital after the crash now claims the Bulgarian flier was wearing civilian clothes under his uniform.

The Italian reporter said Giuseppe Anselmi, 56, told him he partially unbuttoned Solakov's uniform four days ago to try to stem his bleeding and saw underneath a gray suit, white shirt and tie.

When the Italian Defense Ministry issued a communique two days ago in Rome, saying it had virtually all the evidence necessary to prove espionage, it made no mention of any civilian clothing.

PLANE WRECKAGE

ACQUAVIVA, Jan. 24 (AP)—Wreckage of the Russian-built photo reconnaissance plane from Communist Bulgaria was moved tonight from the Italian olive grove where it crashed four days ago.

Italian and NATO officials, trying to determine conclusively whether the plane was on an aerial spying mission, shrouded their work in as much secrecy as possible. They transported the wreckage under heavy police guard over secondary, back-country roads.

The authorities also refused to say where they were taking the plane, and police road blocks hampered newsmen's attempts to follow the giant truck carrying it.

efficacious."

Terrenoire bitterly attacked the secret organization saying that "cowards now are putting young high school boys into drastic action and remaining themselves at the wheel of cars to make a quick getaway and leave the boys to be caught by the police."

MORE BOMBS

PARIS, Jan. 24 (AP)—Seven plastic bombs presumably set by the European Secret Army Organization roared out in rapid succession late today in widely separated parts of Paris.

Five apartment houses were reported damaged. There were no reports of injuries.

OAS STRIKE

ALGIERS, Jan. 24 (AP)—European settlers paralyzed Algeria's major cities today with a 75-minute strike ordered by the right-wing terrorist Secret Army Organization.

It was the most spectacular and ominous show of secret army strength in Algeria since the secret army was formed 11 months ago to oppose the territory's independence.

Thousands of Europeans milled through the streets of Algiers, Oran, Bone, Constantine and Philippeville, roaring, "Algeria is French" supported by former President Eisenhower.

● ON TEXTILES, Kennedy said a group of Senators and Congressmen have called his attention to textile negotiations opening in Geneva next Monday. He said the Congressmen are anxious that the administration be mindful of the desireability of keeping textile imports into this country and the domestic production of textiles in balance.

Youngest General Special War Chief

WASHINGTON, Jan 24 (AP)—Brig. Gen. William B. Rosson, at 43, the youngest of American generals, was picked today to fill the newly created U.S. Army position of Special Assistant to the Chief of Staff for Special Warfare.

An announcement said that Rosson "will focus principally on the Army's anti-guerrilla and counter-insurgency activities."

His assignment also will cover such things as psychological warfare and "unconventional warfare and the employment of irregular forces," the Army said.

serve that authority. Pervukhin, they say, will at least talk with other civilians.

The Western Allies do not always see eye to eye on running West Berlin. Some officials think that if civilians, presumably diplomats, were in charge things would go more smoothly.

The Allies have been wrestling in recent days with the problem of finding a common stand on the ban against Col. Solovyev visiting the U.S. sector of the city. U.S. authorities imposed the ban as a reprisal against the East German interference with American civilian officials.

Mendes-France

termed the idea "revolting."

Salinger said he would try to obtain a general policy statement on the subject.

Kennedy, speaking at a National Dairy and Nutrition Conference, had said milk was an important part of the American diet and promised it would be served at every White House meal from now on.

Kennedy closed his talk by toasting his audience with a glass of milk, which had been placed for the purpose on his podium.

The Presidential promise recalled the effort of former Premier Pierre Mendes-France to replace wine with milk some years ago in France, where wine is almost a basic item in the national diet.

U.S. Accepts Proposal

most powerful nations, Argentina and Brazil, joined in a common front proposing hemispheric coexistence with Cuba while condemning Castro for embracing communism.

Opening the debate, Colombian Foreign Minister Jose Joaquin Caicedo Castrilla demanded a collective economic and diplomatic break with Cuba by all 20 nations sitting in judgment here. His call was echoed by Guatemala.

Caicedo did not say which nations might intervene in Cuba. Countries such as Colombia and the Central American nations have felt heavy pressure from Castro Communist infiltration tactics.

The Colombian stand expressed feelings of a group, including the United States, which seeks the strongest possible action against Castro. The speech won prolonged applause from the delegates, many of whom have been working for milder action.

Guatemala's Foreign Minister, Jesus Unda Murillo, denounced Cuban ties with the Soviet Union and Red China and called the current OAS attitude suicidal.

He contended it is farcical to talk about the principle of self-determination with regard to Cuba, a Communist state. Guatemala, a target of Cuban attacks, provided one of the training grounds for the anti-Castro force which started the ill-fated Bay of Pigs invasion of Cuba last April.

Epidemic Kills 310

KARACHI, Pakistan, Jan. 24 (UPI) — Smallpox epidemic deaths in Karachi have risen to 310 with six more deaths reported yesterday.

scheduled this week. On Friday, an Atlas-Agena rocket is slated to hurl a Ranger 3 payload to the moon to take closeup television pictures and land an instrument package on the lunar surface.

The attempt to orbit astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. is set for Saturday.

Glenn and his repaired space capsule were both reported today fit for a flight around the world.

A National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) spokesman said Glenn had given his malfunctioning space craft an hour-long check yesterday.

The spokesman did not give the results of the check, but indicated that they were still aiming for a Saturday launch.

Glenn's planned flight had been postponed from today to Saturday by the malfunctioning of an oxygen supply system. The source said the faulty parts had now been replaced.

'Algeria Is French' Strike

it was willing to make over Algeria. He then added another, that the French now are willing to have an Algerian rebel supporter as head of the provisional government in Algeria.

The sources said if the rebels agreed and signed, the Frnech would set up a provisional Executive between the time a ceasefire was agreed on and the proposed self determination referendum.

Sources could give no indication of the time-limit implied in De Gaulle's ultimatum, but believed he would act at the end of February.

They said if the rebels did not sign, De Gaulle would go ahead and install a transitional government without a rebel government nominee.

ORAN STRIKE

ORAN, Jan. 25 — A general strike gripped Oran today and hundreds of persons streamed into the streets.

CARS DROVE through the city blowing their horns to the rhythm of "Al-ge-rie Fran-caise" (Algeria is French).

In one suburb stores slow in closing were stoned by passersby.

A word of mouth order for a general strike spread rapidly through Oran this morning after police had removed wreaths and bouquets placed around the Oran monument to the dead to commemorate the second anniversary of a settler uprising in Algiers in 1960. Several Europeans died in that abortive attempt to overthrow the government.

The strike order, apparently spread by right wing activists, was generally followed by employees of private concerns. Many city administration workers also joined in.

LYNCHINGS

ALGIERS, Jan. 25 (AP)—European crowds lynched two Moslems in the west Algerian city of Oran today and roughed up a French Army General during a noisy demonstration in Algiers.

An estimated 15,000 Europeans surged through Oran's streets, screaming insults against French President Charles de Gaulle. A general strike paralyzed the city.

The crowd hurled concussion grenades and fired in the direction of riot troops.

Two Moslems were battered to death after a Moslem terrorist killed a European.

Several hundred young European toughs stormed a police station to get at two Moslem suspects held there. Both Moslems were severely injured.

Colombia Asks Cuba Punishments support the compromise idea of suspending the Castro government from OAS bodies, provided this was accompanied by a sufficiently strong denunciation of Castro.

THE BRAZILIANS, whose own neutralist-leaning government is feeling the heat of social ferment aggravated by economic trouble, urged the conference to give the Castro regime time to reject of its own volition membership in the Communist bloc.

Opposing severe sanctions, Brazil wants the Latin American neighbors of Cuba to move cautiously in the apparent hope there is still a chance Cuba will return to the Democratic fold. Brazil's suggestion that it is possible to negotiate some form of coexistence with the Castro regime has been categorically rejected by the United States.

Rusk's speech was a ringing call for stern action to condemn and isolate Castro.

The Brazilian campaign indicated there was little hope of unanimous decisive action by the 20 American states sitting in judgment on the Havana government.

RUSK LABELED Castro and the Cuban Communists "smirking sycophants" of Moscow and declared:

"What we cannot accept and will never accept is the use of Cuba as a means through which extra-continental powers seek to break up the inter-American system, to overthrow governments of other countries and to destroy the autonomous Democratic revolution of the hemisphere.

"The Castro regime has extended the global battle to Latin America. It has supplied communism with a bridgehead in the Americas, and it has thereby brought the entire hemisphere into the front line of the struggle between communism and democracy. It has turned itself into an arsenal for arms and ammunition from the Communist world. With Communist help, Castro has built up the largest military establishment in Latin America."

Crashed Airliner Carried Faulty Gauge

LONDON, Jan. 25 (UPI) — The team investigating the British European Airways Comet crash at Ankara Dec. 21, which killed 26 people, has found a fault in the plane's director horizon indicator, the Aviation Ministry announced last night.

"This could cause the pilot to be given false information about the aircraft's altitude," a Ministry statement said. It added all Comet pilots have been warned not to rely solely on this instrument, which is being checked.

and international gunmen in the service of Marxism directed from Cuba."

He called Congress into session to ratify the decree and said the state of siege would be in effect 30 days.

Ceylon To Buy Red Oil

COLOMBO, Jan. 25 (AP) — The state-owned petroleum corporation will buy oil from Rumania, Egypt and the Soviet Union, E. S. R. Coomaraswamy, leader of a corporation delegation, said today after returning from a trip to Europe to work out agreements on supplies for the corporation.

to have occurred New Year's Day, when troops, reportedly under the command of Col. Joseph Pakassa, ransacked the mission, murdered the priests and chopped up their bodies.

Lawson said Kongolo was wrecked by the marauding troops, backed by fanatical Baluba tribe youths. The town's entire population had fled to the bush, he said.

LEGAL AID

NEW YORK, Jan. 25 (AP) — The UN has announced Acting Secretary General U Thant had named UN legal counsel Constantin Stavropoulos to give legal aid to the Katanga provincial government in the Congo.

PAKASSA JAILED

LEOPOLDVILLE, Jan. 25 (AP) — Col. Alphonse Pakassa, field commander of the unruly troops of pro-Communist Leader Antoine Gizenga, has been taken into UN custody in Stanleyville, the UN reported today, after briefly escaping from imprisonment yesterday.

The UN spokesman said Pakassa was recaptured yesterday morning. He had been arrested several days ago by the Central Government army chief Victor Lundula.

The government has given no indication of what it intends to do with the rebel commander. But the UN has been trying to get their hands on him ever since last November when his troops massacred 13 Italian UN airmen at Kindu.

IN LEOPOLDVILLE the Minister of Interior today confirmed Gizenga himself is under arrest, being held by Gen. Joseph Mobutu's paracommandos in a house in their military camp.

Interior Minister Christophe Gbenye questioned the legality of the Lumumbist leader's detention, however, saying the matter is legally his responsibility but up to now he has not even been given permission to see the prisoner.

Gbenye is a former supporter of Gizenga's from Stanleyville but since assuming the key post in the Leopoldville government he has turned firmly against the one-time rebel.

aerial maps of Southern Italy — described as "rather inaccurate"—were found inside the plane.

This source said the maps made it obvious "that the pilot was ordered to fly here to check the exact positions of several NATO missile bases."

The communique said Solakov's condition has improved so rapidly that "his transfer to the military hospital at Bart (from the civil hospital nearby at Acquaviva) is imminent."

The Defense Ministry statement that said competent military authorities have made as the fundamental element of their investigation, the photographic equipment found aboard the Mig-17 jet.

congress to back a left-leaning Christian Democrat government with Pietro Nenni's leftist Socialist in support, in place of the right-wing Liberals.

A new Christian Democrat government resulting from the "opening to the left" would be able to push stronger for social reforms.

Including the Socialists in the government would give the Christian Democrats a comfortable margin in the lower house, in place of the hair-line balance the old coalition had to live with for so long.

French Await Rebel Answer To Ultimatum

as sovereignty over part of the Sahara and added another one.

This is that France has agreed to an Algerian rebel supporter heading the provisional government in Algeria. The provisional government would be established as one of the first steps towards independence, between the effecting of Franco-Moslem ceasefire and a national referendum for Algerians to decide their future status.

ALGERIAN VIOLENCE

ALGIERS, Jan. 26 (UPI) — European extremist "commandos" raided an Algiers hospital tonight to rescue a comrade who had been wounded and arrested while trying to crash a police roadblock.

The four-man OAS commando squads swept into the hospital with tommy guns at the ready, grabbed the wounded man and whisked him away in a car.

The raid by four members of the extremist Secret Army (OAS) on the Mustapha Hospital climaxed a day in which striking Algiers civilians strove to break down the harsh new traffic control.

The days toll was 12 dead and 18 wounded. It brought the total since Jan. 1 to 470 killed and 889 wounded.

MOROCCAN ACTION

RABAT, Morocco, Jan. 26 (UPI) —Morocco has rushed troops to the Algerian border to protect it against alleged violations of Moroccan territory by French troops in Algeria, the Moroccan Defense Ministry announced tonight.

The Ministry communique said the action was taken "in face of the aggravation of the situation and the repeated violations by French operational troops in Algeria of our eastern frontiers."

Nuclear Talks

the Soviet (Nov. 28) proposal" for an uncontrolled four-power test-ban pledge.

Tsarapkin also described the Western willingness to a permit a merger as "a maneuver to deflect the disarmament committee from its basic task of discussing general and complete disarmament."

Conference sources said Sir Michael sought an explanation of the Soviet statement from Tsarapkin. They quoted the Soviet delegate as replying, "Wait until you see the verbatim record" of the meeting.

Stelle and Sir Michael refused to consider the Soviet declaration — which contained a repetition of virtually all previous accusations against the Western nuclear powers —as a reply to their latest proposal.

WASHINGTON REACTION

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26 (AP) — Russia's turnabout proposal on nuclear test negotiations is regarded in official quarters here as a maneuver to kill off all prospects of a test ban treaty and hang the blame on the West.

The United States and Britain will consult in the next few days on Russia's sudden proposal to continue the three-power test ban negotiations at Geneva. But informants here indicated that the Soviet plan is basically unacceptable because it calls for agreement on a test ban which could not be policed.

The latest Moscow maneuver completely reverses the Russian policy line broached by Soviet Premier Khrushchev to President Kennedy when they met at Vienna last June. Khrushchev said the three-power conference on a pact banning nuclear tests under an international inspection system should be merged with general disarmament negotiations.

American, UK Students Killed In Italy Crash

PRATO, Italy, Jan. 26 (UPI) — An American and a British student were killed yesterday when a truck hit their motor scooter on a superhighway near Florence.

The victims were identified as James Michael Manix, 21, of Moses Lake, Wash., and Noel Berry, 20, of Point Chares, Bermuda.

DC Congress

When the Congress opens in the ornate San Carlo Opera House, Premier Amintore Fanfani will no longer have a Parliamentary majority. The Social Democrats and Republicans, who for the past 18 months backed his government along with the conservative Liberals have served notice that they will consider their support terminated the moment the Naples meeting opens.

What the Social Democrats, the Republicans and Fanfani himself want is a "center-left" coalition of their three parties, breaking with the Liberals and resting on support from the leftwing Nenni Socialists. The Socialists would not be included in the government because of their continued links with the Communists, but their backing in Parliament would be vital.

The "center-left" advocates feel this would allow them to carry out wide social reforms with Nenni's backing, and at the same time continue Italy's pro-Western foreign policy despite Nenni's avowed neutralism.

Opponents of the center-left fear that it would give the Communists an indirect say in the government.

Although the allegiances of many of the 699 Congress delegates were unclear, faction more or less firmly committed to the center-left held a majority. Open enemies of Nenni, under ex-Premier Mario Scelba and Defense Minister Giulio Andreotti, were apparently isolated.

out of deliberations of the Organization of American States.

Uruguay's Foreign Minister, Homero Martinez Montero, said "Uruguay now can be counted" with the seven members who oppose economic sanctions and other tough aspects of the four-point program presented yesterday by Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

The deadlock set the Inter-American Foreign Ministers Conference back another 24 hours. The Ministers had set tonight as the deadline for presentation of a resolution for inclusion in the final Conference act. The deadline is now tomorrow night.

This gives the participants only Sunday to reach a final agreement.

second stage of the booster which settled into an 15,000-mile-an-hour orbit 100 miles above the earth six minutes after launching.

After coasting through space for about eight minutes, the Agena-B engine re-fired over the South Atlantic Ocean and, at the proper instant, a spring device kicked Ranger-3 free.

There was no immediate report on whether the vehicle reached its intended velocity of 24,500 miles an hour.

diction of the Bari court.

The Italian government source said flatly that Solakov "will be tried before an Italian civil court." He explained that during peacetime espionage cases are tried in civil rather than military courts.

Bari District Attorney Carlo Giancaspro said, however, that no charges have yet been filed, as had been reported in some Italian newspapers.

He explained the groundwork was being laid for charges, "provided the investigation gives definite proof Solakov was on a spy mission."

$7.5 Billion Budget

(By United Press International)

The Cabinet of Premier Amintore Fanfani has approved a $7.5 billion budget estimate for 1962-1963, with a deficit of just under $500 million.
