Londoners Crowd Gas Stations As Petrol Cut Threat Looms

LONDON, May 29 (AP)—Londoners crowded into the gasoline stations today in the face of a union threat to make the petrol supplies.

London motorists took no chances this morning. "They're not bringing in those jerry cans yet," explained a harassed gasoline station operator, "but everybody wants a full tank."

The Royal Automobile Club announced it would set up a service listing nearby stations just out of the London area where members might get gasoline if the supplies here are stopped on Monday.

Something Of A Joke

The big Transport and General Workers Union threatened it would cut off London's gasoline deliveries next Monday in support of the 3-1-2-week-old bus strike which has become something of a joke.

The absence of London's 8,400 big red double-deck buses has caused no great inconvenience. Most Londoners found other ways of getting about the capital, and no great pressure has been exerted for a settlement.

But the threat of a halt in the gasoline supplies—the gasoline delivery men and the busmen belong to the same union—made London sit up. The union also said it might call out its members who operate the power stations supplying the electricity for the London subway system.

Editorials in London newspapers this morning insisted that the government would have to step in. And government spokesmen said emergency arrangements could be made—by bringing in troops.

Bonn Reconsiders West Support Issue

BONN, May 30 (AP)—The Adenauer government, which has just reached a compromise agreement with Britain on the troop support issue, indicated today it may back away from its stand (that it won't) pay any more to France, the United States and other countries.

A government spokesman told a news conference Bonn has dispatched a new note to Washington on the question and that the subject of paying support costs to France is now being negotiated in NATO.

Only yesterday West Germany and Britain announced agreement that Bonn would continue to pay toward the support of British forces in this country for the next three years in return for British agreement to maintain at least 45,000 soldiers in West Germany.

U.S. Claim

The United States has put in a claim for $77 million in troops support costs for the fiscal year that ended last March 31. Up to now Bonn said repeatedly it will not pay the Americans a cent more. The spokesman declined to state what was contained in the message to Washington but said it would arrive before Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano, who is due in the U.S. capital June 4 for talks with Secretary of State Dulles.

The implication was that Bonn was willing to help pay for U.S. troop upkeep by premature payment of debts to the U.S. Premature debt payment was a feature of the British-West German agreement.

France has requested an unspecified sum for the current fiscal year but negotiations with the French were postponed until the British settlement.

UK Government Alerts Troops For Strike Threat

LONDON, May 30 (AP)—The Macmillan government tonight alerted 6,000 British troops in readiness to meet a threatened strike aimed at cutting London's vital gasoline supplies.

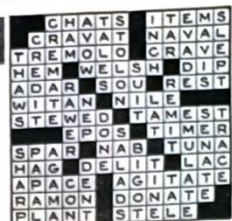

Weekend passes for the soldiers mostly drivers by trade — were cancelled as hundreds of civilian tanker drivers debated whether to stop work in support of 50,000 London busmen on strike since May 4. Busmen's leaders have been disappointed by the small degree of disruption the strike has caused to London's commuting millions. By extending it into the gasoline supplying field, they hope to make the bus stoppage more effective.

The tanker drivers will take a firm decision on whether to strike at a mass meeting here tomorrow. "In the event of labor being withdrawn from oil distribution in London and the Home Counties in support of the bus strike, services vital to the community in this area will be threatened," the government said.

Then it pledged: "The government will in this event take immediate steps to ensure supplies of gasoline and oil. The government's alert to the troops came after a day of round-the-clock discussions aimed at ending the bus strike. Prime Minister Macmillan met union leaders at his 10 Downing Street residence this morning and later the union bosses went into private conference.

Nicosia Riot Toll Grows; Turkish Mob Kills Greek

NICOSIA, June 11 (AP) — A Greek Cypriot municipal employee was shot dead by a Turkish Cypriot mob in Nicosia's municipal market this morning, it was officially announced.

It was the fifth Greek Cypriot rioting in Nicosia since Saturday night. Two Turkish Cypriots have also been killed.

Many Greek Cypriots and at least one Turkish Cypriot are officially listed as wounded over the last three days.

The shooting today occurred while Turkish Cypriots were attacking Greek Cypriot shops and setting fire to them.

This is the third consecutive day that disorders have broken out in the market area during the lifting of the night curfew.

Victim Identified
Today's victim was officially identified as Andonis Ioannou, a dustcart driver.

As well as attacking shops the Turkish Cypriot mob set fire to a pile of bicycles abandoned by their Greek Cypriot owners during the violence of the last few days.

The machines were first drenched in gasoline and wooden crates were added to the flames.

A British riot squad with fixed bayonets finally dispersed the mob so that fire appliances could approach the blazing shops.

During the night two Greek Cypriots were shot and injured at the village of Athienou 12 miles south of Nicosia. About 100 people were taken to Nicosia for questioning.

The curfew was reimposed on Nicosia's walled city this morning.

Demonical Illness Ruled Possible

LONDON, June 11 (AP) — A Church of England commission concluded after a lengthy study today that human illness caused by demons may be possible.

But the commission, which has been at work on the subject of divine healing and related matters since 1953, expressed doubt that cures of human ailments could result solely from the practice of spiritualism, faith healing or Christian science.

The commission turned the subject of demons over to a subcommittee. It said of the group's findings:

"Some members of the committee were not persuaded that demons may cause or complicate any malady.

"Yet on the other hand they recognize that medical knowledge is not, and cannot ever be, comprehensive, and they would not like to assert a priori (without examination) that no case will ever be found of such an unusual character as suggests the need for exorcism."

Lewis Re-Marries Child Bride Of 13

NEW YORK, June 11 (AP) — Jerry Lewis, the controversial American rock'n' roll singer who cut short a tour of England because of popular condemnation of his marriage to a 13-year-old girl, yesterday announced he has re-married her just to "satisfy the people in the U.S. and England" that everything was legal.

He said he went through a second wedding ceremony with his girl-wife Myra last week, and noted that the youthfulness of the bride was very little to get excited about. Oscar Davis, Lewis' personal representative, declared: "After all, look at Romeo and Juliet."

London Strike Airlift Risks Crews' Lives

ZESTIENHOVEN AIRFIELD, June 11 (UPI) — Air crews are risking their lives in big planes that take off from a too short runway to bring meat to London.

For this tiny airfield close to Rotterdam is the take-off point of a new airlift that sends 24 to 30 planes loaded with meat to strikebound London. Southend is the arrival point. In the near future more airfields in England will be called on to help.

More Planes Needed
Several air firms have refused to risk their planes and crews. Others lent Bristol "Freighters" and other types of planes. Some decided that a DC-4 might make it if the pilot was willing.

Meanwhile the merchants want more planes. Zeistienhoven is approaching the limit of its capacities. And the men in big planes are approaching the limits of endurance and sometimes even courage.

DOCKERS DIVIDED
LONDON, June 11 (AP) — London's 19,000 striking dockers were split today on whether to end the wildcat walkout that has snarled deliveries of food supplies for the past four weeks.

Mass meetings of strikers at the Tilbury and West India docks, where dozens of ships are lying idle, voted to go back to work next Monday as recommended by a dockers' conference yesterday.

But the 3,500 Tooley Street dockers—the key men in the dispute who began the walkout four weeks ago—decided to stay on strike. Vast cargoes of foodstuffs have rotted aboard more than 100 ships in the Thames River since the strike started. Short supplies and rocketing prices resulted in London shops.

22 Escape Death As Plane Pancakes, Explodes In Surf

RIO DE JANEIRO, June 11 (AP) — A disabled Argentine Airlines DC6B pancaked in the surf off a South Atlantic island yesterday, and all 22 aboard scrambled ashore before the plane burst into flames.

The four-engine plane, en route from Europe to Buenos Aires, developed engine trouble shortly after taking off from the international airport here and radioed a distress signal that it was losing altitude and heading for a crash.

Roar
As rescue boats sped to the scene, the big plane splashed with a tremendous roar into the pounding waves near Ilha Grande and scooped joltingly toward the shore until it grounded on the sandy beach. Not long after the 16 passengers and six crewmen were ashore the plane burst into flames. Only the tail section survived the fire, according to reports here.

One passenger suffered back injury. The others, according to reports, suffered only minor injuries and shock.

The survivors were flown from the island to the nearby mainland where they were in a Brazilian Air Force base hospital at Santa Cruz.

Michelangelo

was moved into an empty salon of the Pitti museum and began studying the statue with the three experts who made the sensational announcement today.

Marangoni and his aides came to the conclusion that it was a work of Michelangelo. They based their conviction on the fact that the statue was once mentioned by Giorgio Vasari, a 16th Century painter and writer, in his famous "Lives of Painters, Sculptors and Artists," source of much valuable knowledge of the Renaissance.
